CORE DATABASES

- ABELL (Annual Bibliography of English Language and Literature)
  The Annual Bibliography of English Language and Literature contains over 850,000 records, covering monographs, periodical articles, critical editions of literary works, book reviews and collections of essays published anywhere in the world from 1920 onwards.

- Black Literature Index
  This database searches over 70,000 bibliographic citations for fiction, poetry and literary reviews published in 110 black periodicals and newspapers between 1827-1940. Links are provided to the full text of citations for the Chicago Defender.

- Film Literature Index
  FLI annually indexes 150 film and television periodicals from 30 countries cover-to-cover and 200 other periodicals selectively for articles on film and television. The periodicals range from the scholarly to the popular. FLI Online contains approximately 700,000 citations to articles, film reviews and book reviews. Coverage 1976-2001.

- Inter-Play
  An index to plays in anthologies, collections, and periodicals. Updated bi-monthly. Abstracts Only.

- JSTOR
  An online, full-text archive of complete backfiles of scholarly periodical literature since 1872. Journals are intended to be archival, not current; most are 2-5 years behind the current issues, depending on the journal. Full Text.

Blackboard: Online Library Orientation

Welcome to the NIU Libraries Orientation!

This orientation is designed to give you a brief introduction to the research process and the library's resources. There are four self-paced modules:

- Types of Information
- Developing a Search Strategy
- Finding Books
- Finding Articles

To complete the orientation, review each module (which include introduction, short readings, and brief videos). Once you have completed your review of all four modules, click on the assessing your knowledge of the orientation content. Score 8/10 or higher on the orientation quiz to receive a Library Orientation Completion Achievement.

If you have any questions about completing the Library Orientation, contact your Instructor. For questions about the content of the modules or assistance with research or library resources Libraries, contact nmsiegardniu.edu.
Four Learning Modules

Developing a Search Strategy

Introduction

“Research is iterative and depends upon asking increasingly complex or new questions whose answers in turn develop additional questions or lines of inquiry in any field” (ACRL Framework, 2016).

In this module, you will learn about the research process and increase your repertoire of investigative methods through the development of effective search strategies. The act of searching often involves finding needed information. However, it is important to remain flexible in both your research focus and your searching process. Therefore, it is helpful to know the steps needed to develop a good search strategy. The better the search strategy, the better your sources will be.

After viewing this content, you should be able to:
- Develop a search strategy
- Adapt your search to narrow down your results
- Adapt your search to broaden your search
- Use subject headings as search terms
